

THE BASEBALL FIGHT DEPENDS LARGELY ON CASH.

W. I. HARRIS' VIEW OF THE CASE. Attention Figures Show the Unfavorable Influence of Contesting Dates.

There can be no doubt that the present conflict of dates between the two big leagues will cause financial disaster to a majority of the clubs, and it begins to look as if the men who would stand the drain of the longest would win.

The attendance at Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Brooklyn on Saturday was largely in favor of the Players' league, but as Saturday in all of these cities is largely in the nature of a holiday the figures are not representative of the steady baseball clientele.

Table with 2 columns: City, Attendance. Rows include Boston, New York, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Cleveland.

The attendance at Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Brooklyn on Saturday was largely in favor of the Players' league, but as Saturday in all of these cities is largely in the nature of a holiday the figures are not representative of the steady baseball clientele.

It was publicly stated last week that the League had made a proposition to the Brotherhood that it would be only too glad to patch up a truce and change their schedules to meet the fear that they would lose prestige among their more enthusiastic supporters should they show any signs of weakening.

There is no doubt, however, that they will make some change in their schedule before the season is over, certainly before starting in on another campaign.

It was publicly stated last week that the League had made a proposition to the Brotherhood that it would be only too glad to patch up a truce and change their schedules to meet the fear that they would lose prestige among their more enthusiastic supporters should they show any signs of weakening.

There has been a tendency on the part of some people, more notably the brokers, to attribute the falling off in attendance at the games as an indication that our great national sport is losing ground.

The visit of the Chicago Players' league team to the east has created a feeling of anxiety in the minds of the baseball enthusiasts, Edward Everett Bell, this individual has been made almost a national character by his peculiar eccentricities on every ball ground he visits.

Bell's pug hat and whiskers, long mane and glasses are a makeup that causes him ceaseless anguish when the small boys get sight of him crossing the benches at the ball parks.

It looks now to a man up a tree that the Boston, Brooklyn and Chicago teams of the Players' league are the only teams who are in it for the money, by their organization, with the Boston's a first choice.

At least half of the yachts in American waters are steam. Fifteen years ago this wasn't even thought of.

The new deed of gift of the American's cup, which challenging party to give a notice of ten months, has been very severely criticised on the other side.

At least half of the yachts in American waters are steam. Fifteen years ago this wasn't even thought of.

The fact that there will be no international yacht race this year, is noticed in the

ALLEGEDLY JUMPER.

Malcolm W. Ford Writes of J. B. Connolly, of Boston.

He Made 44 Feet 10 Inches on Artificial Ground and It Brought Him the Championship—His Best Records at Other Events.

J. B. Connolly, who is shown by the accompanying illustration, is a resident of Boston, and although he has competed in athletics but a comparatively short time is already very prominent as an all-round amateur jumper.

His first competition was a running high jump with weights at Oak Island, Boston, May 30, 1887, in which he won second place with 3 feet 7 1/2 inches.

Another style is made of Russian net, with silk laces woven in. This is made like a gathered basque, with a ribbon belt tied in a deep flap.

The month of leisure seemed never to come to him. The novel never got off "the stocks." Once he sketched the outline of it for me.

The opening chapter showed a man—a "solitary horseman"—traveling a lonely road through the night and storm.

It showed the climax of a tragedy. A man stabbed to death by another man; two women standing near, one still and stern, the other stretching her arms imploringly and sending forth a shriek that sounded above the storm.

In another half minute the blind was blown back to its place and all was dark again. Before the stunned traveler could recover himself a fierce flash and peal of thunder had startled his horse.

That one glimpse was full of horror. It showed the climax of a tragedy. A man stabbed to death by another man; two women standing near, one still and stern, the other stretching her arms imploringly and sending forth a shriek that sounded above the storm.

In another half minute the blind was blown back to its place and all was dark again. Before the stunned traveler could recover himself a fierce flash and peal of thunder had startled his horse.

That one glimpse was full of horror. It showed the climax of a tragedy. A man stabbed to death by another man; two women standing near, one still and stern, the other stretching her arms imploringly and sending forth a shriek that sounded above the storm.

In another half minute the blind was blown back to its place and all was dark again. Before the stunned traveler could recover himself a fierce flash and peal of thunder had startled his horse.

That one glimpse was full of horror. It showed the climax of a tragedy. A man stabbed to death by another man; two women standing near, one still and stern, the other stretching her arms imploringly and sending forth a shriek that sounded above the storm.

In another half minute the blind was blown back to its place and all was dark again. Before the stunned traveler could recover himself a fierce flash and peal of thunder had startled his horse.

THE GIRL'S STORY.

Where the Heroine Lives. The girl's story? It is a simple one of everyday heroism accentuated and made known by one deed of splendid daring.

Between Boone and Moingona (five miles) the Northwestern railway crosses twenty-one bridges.

On the night of July 6, 1881, a storm pelted up the water in the Des Moines river and Honey creek and swept away ten of these structures.

A freight train crashed into the creek near Kate Shelley's house. The girl hurried out into the midnight tempest and rescued the engineer and fireman.

Then she crawled over the ties of the Des Moines river bridge, ran to Moingona station, stopped the on rushing passenger train, saved 150 lives and fell fainting on the track.

The country rang with praises of her magnificent intrepidity, but the substantial reward was small. The railway company gave her $100 and the state of Iowa voted her a gold medal.

The only handicap competition he has engaged in was the running high jump at the big games of the Boston Athletic association last February, in which he received 1 1/2 inches.

Another style is made of Russian net, with silk laces woven in. This is made like a gathered basque, with a ribbon belt tied in a deep flap.

The month of leisure seemed never to come to him. The novel never got off "the stocks." Once he sketched the outline of it for me.

The opening chapter showed a man—a "solitary horseman"—traveling a lonely road through the night and storm.

It showed the climax of a tragedy. A man stabbed to death by another man; two women standing near, one still and stern, the other stretching her arms imploringly and sending forth a shriek that sounded above the storm.

In another half minute the blind was blown back to its place and all was dark again. Before the stunned traveler could recover himself a fierce flash and peal of thunder had startled his horse.

That one glimpse was full of horror. It showed the climax of a tragedy. A man stabbed to death by another man; two women standing near, one still and stern, the other stretching her arms imploringly and sending forth a shriek that sounded above the storm.

In another half minute the blind was blown back to its place and all was dark again. Before the stunned traveler could recover himself a fierce flash and peal of thunder had startled his horse.

That one glimpse was full of horror. It showed the climax of a tragedy. A man stabbed to death by another man; two women standing near, one still and stern, the other stretching her arms imploringly and sending forth a shriek that sounded above the storm.

In another half minute the blind was blown back to its place and all was dark again. Before the stunned traveler could recover himself a fierce flash and peal of thunder had startled his horse.

KATE SHELLEY'S DELAYED REWARD.

After Nine Years Her Unselfish Daring Gets Recognition.

Brave Kate Shelley needs no longer fear for the safety of her little home near Moingona, Ia. The mortgage, to pay the interest on which she toiled at school teaching, has been lifted through the instrumentality of The Chicago Tribune, and the surplus of the fund raised will be devoted to improving the little farm that affords a living to the family dependent on Miss Shelley's labor for support—her widowed mother and young sisters and brother.

Where the Heroine Lives. The girl's story? It is a simple one of everyday heroism accentuated and made known by one deed of splendid daring.

Between Boone and Moingona (five miles) the Northwestern railway crosses twenty-one bridges.

On the night of July 6, 1881, a storm pelted up the water in the Des Moines river and Honey creek and swept away ten of these structures.

A freight train crashed into the creek near Kate Shelley's house. The girl hurried out into the midnight tempest and rescued the engineer and fireman.

Then she crawled over the ties of the Des Moines river bridge, ran to Moingona station, stopped the on rushing passenger train, saved 150 lives and fell fainting on the track.

The country rang with praises of her magnificent intrepidity, but the substantial reward was small. The railway company gave her $100 and the state of Iowa voted her a gold medal.

The only handicap competition he has engaged in was the running high jump at the big games of the Boston Athletic association last February, in which he received 1 1/2 inches.

Another style is made of Russian net, with silk laces woven in. This is made like a gathered basque, with a ribbon belt tied in a deep flap.

The month of leisure seemed never to come to him. The novel never got off "the stocks." Once he sketched the outline of it for me.

The opening chapter showed a man—a "solitary horseman"—traveling a lonely road through the night and storm.

It showed the climax of a tragedy. A man stabbed to death by another man; two women standing near, one still and stern, the other stretching her arms imploringly and sending forth a shriek that sounded above the storm.

In another half minute the blind was blown back to its place and all was dark again. Before the stunned traveler could recover himself a fierce flash and peal of thunder had startled his horse.

That one glimpse was full of horror. It showed the climax of a tragedy. A man stabbed to death by another man; two women standing near, one still and stern, the other stretching her arms imploringly and sending forth a shriek that sounded above the storm.

In another half minute the blind was blown back to its place and all was dark again. Before the stunned traveler could recover himself a fierce flash and peal of thunder had startled his horse.

THE GIRL'S STORY.

Where the Heroine Lives. The girl's story? It is a simple one of everyday heroism accentuated and made known by one deed of splendid daring.

Between Boone and Moingona (five miles) the Northwestern railway crosses twenty-one bridges.

On the night of July 6, 1881, a storm pelted up the water in the Des Moines river and Honey creek and swept away ten of these structures.

A freight train crashed into the creek near Kate Shelley's house. The girl hurried out into the midnight tempest and rescued the engineer and fireman.

Then she crawled over the ties of the Des Moines river bridge, ran to Moingona station, stopped the on rushing passenger train, saved 150 lives and fell fainting on the track.

The country rang with praises of her magnificent intrepidity, but the substantial reward was small. The railway company gave her $100 and the state of Iowa voted her a gold medal.

The only handicap competition he has engaged in was the running high jump at the big games of the Boston Athletic association last February, in which he received 1 1/2 inches.

Another style is made of Russian net, with silk laces woven in. This is made like a gathered basque, with a ribbon belt tied in a deep flap.

The month of leisure seemed never to come to him. The novel never got off "the stocks." Once he sketched the outline of it for me.

The opening chapter showed a man—a "solitary horseman"—traveling a lonely road through the night and storm.

It showed the climax of a tragedy. A man stabbed to death by another man; two women standing near, one still and stern, the other stretching her arms imploringly and sending forth a shriek that sounded above the storm.

In another half minute the blind was blown back to its place and all was dark again. Before the stunned traveler could recover himself a fierce flash and peal of thunder had startled his horse.

That one glimpse was full of horror. It showed the climax of a tragedy. A man stabbed to death by another man; two women standing near, one still and stern, the other stretching her arms imploringly and sending forth a shriek that sounded above the storm.

In another half minute the blind was blown back to its place and all was dark again. Before the stunned traveler could recover himself a fierce flash and peal of thunder had startled his horse.

That one glimpse was full of horror. It showed the climax of a tragedy. A man stabbed to death by another man; two women standing near, one still and stern, the other stretching her arms imploringly and sending forth a shriek that sounded above the storm.

In another half minute the blind was blown back to its place and all was dark again. Before the stunned traveler could recover himself a fierce flash and peal of thunder had startled his horse.

McLANE'S LIVER PILLS.

THE GENUINE DRUG. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS! READ THIS!

DEAR SIR:—For a long time I suffered from the effects of indigestion and sick headache and on trying your Dr. McLANE'S LIVER PILLS I found quick and satisfactory relief.

NEVER KNOW TO FAIL. Cure sick headache, biliousness, liver complaint, indigestion, dyspepsia, heartburn, malaria, pimples on the face and body, impure blood, etc.

SWIFT SPECIFIC CO. Scrofula in Children. In the early part of 1887 scrofula appeared on the head of my little grandchild, then only 18 months old.

Cancer of the Nose. In 1875 a sore appeared on my nose, and grew rapidly. As my father had cancer, and my husband died of it, I became alarmed and consulted my physician.

HUMPHREYS' VETERINARY SPECIFIC. For Horses, Cattle, Sheep, Dogs, Hogs AND POULTRY.

HUMPHREYS' HOMEOPATHIC SPECIFIC. In 1830 years' the only successful remedy for RHEUMATISM, GOUT, GRAVEL, NEURALGIA, and Prostration.

TO MOTHERS. Every babe should have a bottle of Dr. FLEMING'S TEething SYRUP.

GRAY'S SPECIFIC MEDICINE. THE GREAT ENGLISH REMEDY. An unparalleled cure for Scrofula, Syphilis, Impotency and all Diseases that follow as a sequel to either.

CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS. Sick Headache and relieve all the troubles incident to a bilious state of the system.

HEADACHE. Headache, yet CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS are equally valuable in Constipation, curing and preventing this annoying complaint.

ACHE. is the basis of so many ills that here it were, we make our great boast. Our pills cure it while others do not.

CARTER MEDICINE CO., NEW YORK. Small Pill. Small Dose. Small Price.

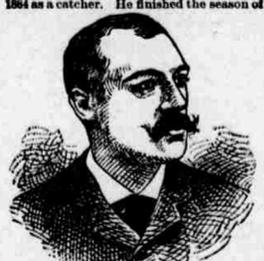

STANDARD CARRIAGE WORK. EDW. EDGERLEY, CARRIAGE BUILDER.

COAL DEALERS. OFFICES—No. 120 North Queen Street, and No. 50 North Prince Street, near Reading Depot.

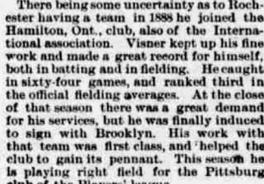

DR. NATHAN DENNETT. Filling Teeth and Painless Extraction Specified. New sets made, and all cases of decayed and pitted, etc.

FOR RENT—Handsome FRONT ROOM on 2d Floor, on West King street; finest location in the city for office or light business.

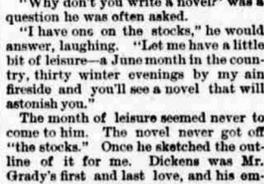

FOR RENT—Handsome FRONT ROOM on 2d Floor, on West King street; finest location in the city for office or light business.

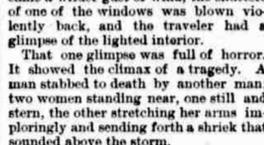

JOSEPH P. VISSER. 1884 as a member of the Union Pacific team, of Omaha, Neb.

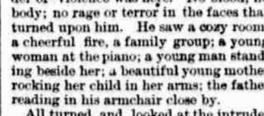

J. B. CONNOLLY. The only handicap competition he has engaged in was the running high jump at the big games of the Boston Athletic association last February.

HENRY W. GRADY'S NOVEL. He Had Its First Chapter, Here Outlined, Written When He Died.

WILLIAM SUNDAY. William Sunday is the noted right fielder of the Pittsburgh club, N. L., and was for four successive years one of the Chicago team.

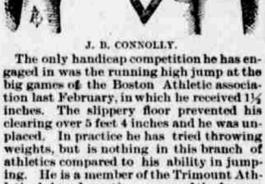

MISS JULIA SCHREINER. She Has Chosen an American Gentleman for Her Husband.

MARY E. BRYAN. The boat in which Henry Searle took the championship race will be used by the late champion's younger brother.

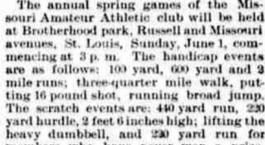

MALCOLM W. FORD. He Made 44 Feet 10 Inches on Artificial Ground and It Brought Him the Championship—His Best Records at Other Events.

KATE SHELLEY. After Nine Years Her Unselfish Daring Gets Recognition.

WILLIAM SUNDAY. William Sunday is the noted right fielder of the Pittsburgh club, N. L., and was for four successive years one of the Chicago team.

MISS JULIA SCHREINER. She Has Chosen an American Gentleman for Her Husband.

MARY E. BRYAN. The boat in which Henry Searle took the championship race will be used by the late champion's younger brother.

MISS JULIA SCHREINER. She Has Chosen an American Gentleman for Her Husband.

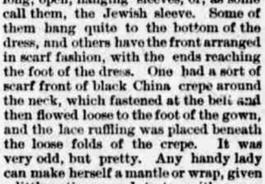

NEWS FROM OVER THE WATER THAT IS IN ITS WAY A RELIEF AND A NOVELTY. AN

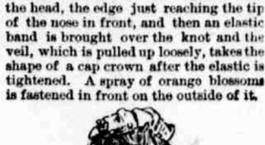

WILLIAM SUNDAY. William Sunday is the noted right fielder of the Pittsburgh club, N. L., and was for four successive years one of the Chicago team.

MISS JULIA SCHREINER. She Has Chosen an American Gentleman for Her Husband.

MARY E. BRYAN. The boat in which Henry Searle took the championship race will be used by the late champion's younger brother.

MISS JULIA SCHREINER. She Has Chosen an American Gentleman for Her Husband.

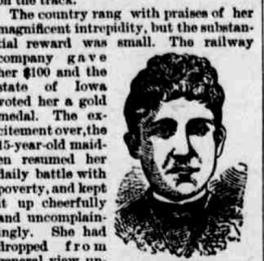

MARY E. BRYAN. The boat in which Henry Searle took the championship race will be used by the late champion's younger brother.

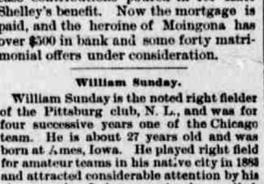

MISS JULIA SCHREINER. She Has Chosen an American Gentleman for Her Husband.

NEWS FROM OVER THE WATER THAT IS IN ITS WAY A RELIEF AND A NOVELTY. AN

WILLIAM SUNDAY. William Sunday is the noted right fielder of the Pittsburgh club, N. L., and was for four successive years one of the Chicago team.

MISS JULIA SCHREINER. She Has Chosen an American Gentleman for Her Husband.

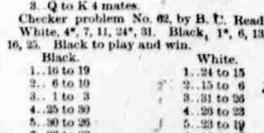

MARY E. BRYAN. The boat in which Henry Searle took the championship race will be used by the late champion's younger brother.

MISS JULIA SCHREINER. She Has Chosen an American Gentleman for Her Husband.

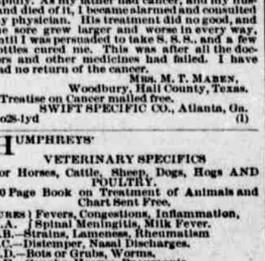

MARY E. BRYAN. The boat in which Henry Searle took the championship race will be used by the late champion's younger brother.

MISS JULIA SCHREINER. She Has Chosen an American Gentleman for Her Husband.

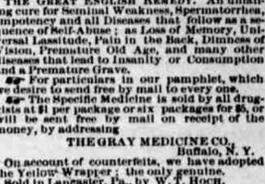

NEWS FROM OVER THE WATER THAT IS IN ITS WAY A RELIEF AND A NOVELTY. AN

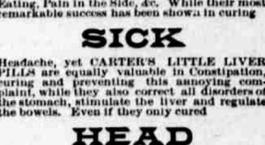

WILLIAM SUNDAY. William Sunday is the noted right fielder of the Pittsburgh club, N. L., and was for four successive years one of the Chicago team.

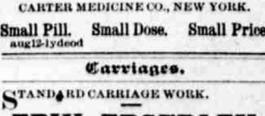

MISS JULIA SCHREINER. She Has Chosen an American Gentleman for Her Husband.

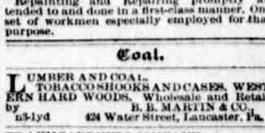

MARY E. BRYAN. The boat in which Henry Searle took the championship race will be used by the late champion's younger brother.

MISS JULIA SCHREINER. She Has Chosen an American Gentleman for Her Husband.

MARY E. BRYAN. The boat in which Henry Searle took the championship race will be used by the late champion's younger brother.

MISS JULIA SCHREINER. She Has Chosen an American Gentleman for Her Husband.

NEWS FROM OVER THE WATER THAT IS IN ITS WAY A RELIEF AND A NOVELTY. AN